Wild Turkey – Over Proof Rum Plantation

Pineapple Rum – Grand Marnier

Once upon a time, an old man invited his long lost friend to have some tea in his house on a freezing winter night. They made a bonfire outside the house while having their favourite blueberry tea but his friend insisted on adding some whiskey to it, which to their good surprise, turned out to be a perfect hot drink with balanced aroma of tea and spices strengthened through the flowing liquor flame.

Chartreuse – Homemade Spicy Pineapple Honey

Freshly Squeezed Lemon Juice

President Butter – Honey Pineapple

4 centuries ago, Carthusian monks drank a “medicinal drink” made from the famous liqueur Chartreuse with 130 herbs, calling it “the elixir of long life”. Because of the alcoholic properties and sweet herbal taste of this drink, people started to adopt it as a beverage. Inspired by its common tribute to cocktail as ingredient, this winter, a unique Live Cooked tonic drink of warmth, vitality and balanced taste between sweetness, richness and acidity from monk JS' manuscript is unveiled to warm you up.

熱節慶紅酒

Red wine – Cointreau – Simple Syrup
Homemade Spiced Cognac – Orange Slices

Mulled wine is an ancient drink, dating back to the 2nd century when the Romans took to warming up their wine to help them through the freezing winter months. As their empire grew throughout Europe, knowledge of mulled wine spread, making it a popular winter drink for centuries. With Christmas fast approaching and the wintry weather getting chillier, we enjoy nothing more than a good warm mulled wine to banish those winter chills!
